Allies Push To Within Artillery Range Of Kumsong About Half Of County's

2 More Hills Captured On Eastern Front

U.S. Eighth Army Hqs., Korea, Tuesday (AP)—Three Allied divisions today captured two more hills in their central front offensive and were within easy artillery range of Kumsong, the Reds' central front assembly area some 30 miles north of Paralel 38.

The fourth day of the attack on a 22-mile front brought the United Nations line forward five and one half miles from its jumping off point on the morning of October 13.

AP Photographer Bob Schutz reported from the front that Chinese resistance stiffened yesterday but two Red probing attacks were repulsed during the night.

Chinese artillery and mortars, however, poured out about 4,000 rounds of fire daily, he said.

American and South Korean infantrymen were driving ahead in hilly country but there still was no sign of the "traditional Communist die-hard stands," Schutz said.

Thirty-one hill positions have fallen to the advancing United Nations forces in four days.

In the first three days of the offensive the Allied fighters won nearly 100 square miles of Communist Korean territory.

The U. S. Second Division's 38th regiment Monday successfully stormed the highest mountain peak between Heartbreak Ridge and the Pukhan river on the eastern front. The crest towers 4,000 feet high. The gain was announced as the North Korean Army communique boasted that Red troops had annihilated the 38th Regiment.

The west was comparatively quiet. However, the Communists stepped up their barrages of mortar and artillery fire from long range.

Huge Plane Down At Sea

Westover Air Force Base, Mass. (AP)—One of the biggest United States Air Force rescue operations in history was on last night for a Military Air Transport Stratofreighter believed ditched in the Atlantic with a crew of 11 aboard.

Westover said that 50 planes are engaged in the search over a 2-436-mile route "paralleling a great circle between Westover and Lages, the Azores." Each plane carries between 15 and 20 men.

Search planes also are operating out of Newfoundland, Labrador, Bermuda, the Azores, Maxwell field, Alabama, and Selfridge field, Michigan.

The big Stratofreighter was reported missing when she failed to arrive on schedule at Westover at 2:22 p.m. on a flight from Lages.

The C-97 Boeing craft, which left Lages at 3:45 a.m., was last heard from by radio at 4:28 a.m.

She apparently was plunging through a storm off the Azores at that time.

Fourteen hours later, Westover said it "presumed" the plane was down as it had only enough gas to last until 6:20 p.m. About three hours earlier Kindley Air Force base at Bermuda had picked up a weak SOS.

Half Million Greet Princess

Windsor, Ont. (AP)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh thrilled possibly half a million Canadians and Americans in this border city yesterday before flying into Canada's gold-mining back country.

And what impressed them most was the friendly relations between the two countries separated here only by the peaceful Detroit river.

Estimates of the crowd that lined the 21-mile procession route to see the new ruler of the British Empire and her husband ranged from 200,000 to 500,000.

A-Tests Delayed

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Waiting for weather conditions that are "just right" the Atomic Energy commission said last night that Exercise Desert Rock will not get under way until "later this week."

Moran Indicted

New York (AP)—James J. Moran, bosom pal of former Mayor William O'Dwyer, was indicted yesterday as alleged master mind of a $500,000 a year city-wide shake-down racket.

Mossadegh Tells U. N. Council To Keep Hands Off Dispute; Limits Talks With Britain

New York, (AP)—Iran's aged and ailing premier, Mohammed Mossadegh, told the U. N. Security Council yesterday to keep hands off in the British Iranian oil dispute and let Iran shape its own economic destiny.

At the same time, he barred any further direct negotiations with Britain except on two questions: Compensation for British investments in the new nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. and possible sale of oil to Britain.

Mossadegh, speaking slowly and calmly in French, warned: "We will not be coerced whether by foreign governments or by international authorities."

He displayed none of the emotional oratory nor the outbursts of sobbing which frequently have marked his speeches on oil nationalization in his own country. The gist of his argument was that the oil question was an internal problem and, therefore, not within the

Egypt Turns Down West's Plan To Make Suez Canal Zone International Bastion

Cairo, (AP)—Egypt rejected the western power plan to make the Suez an international defense bastion last night and her parliament slashed old ties with Britain for defense and for rule of the vast Sudan.

Wildly cheering these historic acts, Parliament voted that the British must get out of the Suez canal area, and also the Sudan where they have ruled jointly with Egypt for more than half a century.

Official sources in London said Britain would ignore the one-sided denunciation of Suez and Sudan treaty rights and would use force if necessary against any eviction efforts.

Against a backdrop of tumult inside and outside the building, Parliament moved overwhelmingly to make the necessary constitutional changes to absorb the Sudan and proclaim King Farouk I the king of Egypt and the Sudan.

The actual proclamation of his expanded title and other details were deferred until today to give Farouk time to sign the preliminary decrees.

Annexation of the Sudan would add nearly a million square miles and 8,000,000 people to Egyptian sovereignty and triple the land area of Farouk's realm. He could reign from the Mediterranean nearly to the Equator and control a long Sudanese front on the Red sea.

(American officials in Washington indicated the United States would support Britain if she decides to keep troops in the Suez canal area. They indicated the western powers would press forward with their plan to create a Middle East defense command as proposed to Egypt Saturday by the U. S., Britain, France and Turkey. These officials said it was unlikely an uncooperative Egypt could qualify for American arms aid.)

Senate Boosts Rail Pensions

Washington (AP)—The Senate yesterday approved by voice vote a bill increasing railroad retirement benefits by 15 per cent.

The bill now goes to the House, which plans to start consideration today of a rival measure.

Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), who piloted the Senate measure to its swift approval, said increased living costs and boosts in social security insurance benefits voted by Congress last year make necessary more rise in railroad retirement payments.

Social security covers most wage-earners who do not work for the railroads.

Innocent Victim Of Burglar Booby-Trap Loses 2 Fingers

Bridgeton, N. J. (AP)—Physicians said last night they hope to save the hands of a man severely injured by a booby-trap set against burglars.

The trap was rigged by Leon Fralinger after his summer cottage was twice burglarized. But state police trooper James Craig said a burglar, entering a charge might be lodged against Gordon because locks were broken to gain access to the Fralinger cottage.

The little finger of Gordon's left hand and the top of the middle finger of his left hand were amputated last night in an effort to save his hands. Gordon told police he left two friends crab-hunting near Fralinger's cottage

U. N. Retains Battle Line As Truce Goal

Tokyo, Tuesday (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway today said the United Nations is standing firm on its demand for a cease-fire line along the Korean battle line.

"Within our capability we want ground to take as much ground as possible."

"Within our capability we want ground that we can defend," Ridgway said at one of his rare news conferences, he added.

"In principle, we want a cease-fire line more or less along the present battle line."

"The purpose of the Eighth Army is still to repel aggression."

The location of a cease-fire line is the issue that snagged Korean truce talks for weeks before the Reds broke them off August 23.

Except in the extreme west, the Allied battle line cuts deeply into North Korea. At some points it runs more than 30 miles north of Parallel 38, the old boundary.

The Allies have won several hundred square miles of Red Korean territory since the Reds suspended the armistice talks.

The Communists had insisted on a cease-fire line along 38.

Ridgway also promised that the Allied correspondents would be given more news of what goes on at truce talks. He admitted that the Red delegation had been more generous with their reports than accused their counterparts were tinged with malicious propaganda.

Ridgway's comments were made as Allied and Red liaison officers in Korea were conferring for the fifth straight day at Panmunjom on the problem of restarting the truce talks.

COP Booms Warming Up

By The Associated Press

Pre-campaign fireworks were set off yesterday as separate Republican booms warned up for Sen. Robert A. Taft, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and California's Gov. Earl Warren.

Taft is widely expected to announce his candidacy at a news conference today.

At supreme Allied headquarters in Europe, General Eisenhower received an Ike-for-president button with a smile but without any comment on his political intentions.

Aides said Eisenhower has deep political convictions, but is anxious to avoid any statement that might interfere with the task of bolstering Western Europe's defenses.

In Seattle, Wash., scouts for Eisenhower and Taft openly hid for support at a western Republican conference, while California boosters put out feelers on behalf of Governor Warren.

Davis Renominates Dismissed Cadet

Washington (AP)—Rep. Davis (R-Wis.) announced yesterday he has nominated Ronald Clough, one of the cadets dismissed recently in the West Point cribbing scandal, for re-admission to the Military Academy.

Clough, whose home is in Waukesha, Wis., was a senior at West Point, Davis said, and now is attending Notre Dame University.

Davis said it is up to the West Point Board of Admissions whether Clough will be reinstated as a senior in next year's class at West Point.

Davis said Clough was not guilty of cribbing but tutored football players who apparently had advanced knowledge of questions to be asked in examinations.

It was learned that two others of the dismissed group had been renominated. Their names were not given.

Mrs. Sinatra Sues

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Sinatra filed suit yesterday for divorce from crooner Frank Sinatra, thus paving the way for his marriage to screen siren Ava Gardner.

New Hurricane Sighted

Miami, Fla. (AP)—A new hurricane sprang up in the Atlantic off the Georgia coast yesterday, while the tropical storm that died down in the Caribbean sea appeared to be re-forming.

Defense Bonds His Safest Investment

St. Louis, (AP)—Bernhart Levysan, 74, who said two weeks ago he couldn't remember where he banked some $9,000 in bonds is well-fixed financially again.

Defense bonds in his name with a face value of $5,800 were found in an envelope lying in an East St. Louis, Ill. street yesterday. They will be returned to Levysan today.

Police said they believe Levysan was robbed of the bonds and some cash. They added the robber apparently abandoned the bonds when they couldn't be cashed.

Levysan appeared at the Travelers Aid society booth in Union station October 5 and asked for help to get back to Van Buren, Ark.

He later told about "depositing" the bonds and cash in a bank in some small town. He couldn't remember where.

Two days later an East St. Louis bank official reported Levysan had been in his bank, but didn't deposit anything. Instead he bought more government bonds.

Hall Assigned To Leavenworth

Leavenworth, Kas. (AP)—Gus Hall, one of four top U. S. Communist bail jumpers, was just another prisoner at the Federal prison here yesterday.

Warden Walter A. Hunter said Hall was picked up in Mexico October 9 and turned over to United States authorities the next day, was received at the penitentiary Saturday night to begin a five-year term.

Hunter said the man had nothing to say on his arrival. Hall was brought here from Texarkana, Tex., by a U. S. marshal.

Hall will be placed in quarantine, Hunter said, and after 30 days will be assigned to a job, "the same as anyone else."

Withdrawal Of Troops From Europe May Begin Late In '53

Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe, (AP)—A group of visiting American editors was told yesterday that the withdrawal of American troops from Europe might begin in late 1953 or early 1954 if Western Europe's defensive buildup continues at the present rate.

The 14 newsmen visited this headquarters to start a tour of nations receiving mutual defense aid from the United States. No official source could be identified with the information they obtained.

The editors were told that in a matter of two and a half or three years Western Europe should be in a good defensive position, and the withdrawal of American forces might begin then.

This possibility, it was understood, depends upon a continuation of the buildup at its present rate—and also whether Russian and Communist power appears more menacing by then.

(Pennsylvania's 28th Division, including a large number of Monroe county men, are scheduled to go to Europe in November to join the defense army.)

Meanwhile, staff officers said yesterday, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is counting heavily on aircraft carriers to compensate for a shortage of airfields in Western Europe and the Middle East should war break out.

The supreme commander went to Naples, Italy, late yesterday to spend three days with the U.S. Sixth Fleet during its maneuvers in the Mediterranean. Estimated conservatively at "more than 30 ships," including the 45,000-ton Franklin D. Roosevelt and two other carriers, the fleet will give Eisenhower his first eyewitness view of extensive naval warfare techniques, including some new tricks learned in Korea.

The informants said North Atlantic Treaty organization (NATO) nations are not moving ahead fast enough at present in the construction of suitable air bases.

Troops Rescued From Transport

Tokyo, Tuesday, (AP)—Japan's most destructive typhoon of the year lost its punch today and headed out to sea, leaving more than 350 Japanese civilians dead, nearly 1,000 injured and property damage exceeding $55,500,000.

Approximately 500 Allied troops, endangered since early Sunday morning when their troopship to Korea was driven aground off Sasebo, southwest Japan, were rescued last night by a U. S. Navy transport.

There was no loss of life, the Navy said.

First "cash-on-the-line" report meeting of the 1951 Community Chest campaign last night placed the total returns at about the half-way mark. This year's chest budget is up about $20,000.

Close to $31,000 has been paid or pledged in the five fields of solicitation. Not one of these divisions is complete, raising the hope that the final clean-up effort to be pressed in each instance will produce a satisfactory result.

Division heads of the campaign met early last night at the Penn-Stroud hotel under chairmanship of William S. Wyckoff. A preliminary report was presented by Miss Ethel West, executive secretary, showing returns made to date at her office.

Various division heads or their representatives brought those returns up to date with additional returns.

At the same time they outlined the percentage of territory or contacts reached and made rough estimates of what may be expected in their final efforts.

These totals were listed for the various divisions:

Resort, $5,217.25 by Dee Morgenthau; Industrial, $12,309 by Edward Lawson; Stroudsburg, $9,572.60 by Attorney Edward Williams; East Stroudsburg, $2,257.01 by Horace Walters; County, $1,300.01 by Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr.

This Wednesday at noon division heads will meet to plot the final effort of the 1951 campaign.

Generally, it is expected to involve final contacts with industry groups; additional operations in the house-to-house, clean-up of contacts with business firms all over the county and a thorough check with all leaders under the five divisions to insure complete solicitation coverage.

Reports, especially from industry, indicated that the increased budget required this year to operate ten agencies, including a full year's budget for Monroe County Nursing Service organization, had been met with increased giving.

Generally, the returns have increased over last year all along the line.

Maintenance of that pace "from here in," chest leaders said, is essential to bring the campaign up to expectations or estimates made when the budget was adopted.

No Stockpile Of A-Weapons

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett declared yesterday the United States does not yet have a stockpile of atomic super-weapons which can bring a cheap victory in war. And he warned the nation against any foolhardy optimism over new weapons.

He told the American Legion national convention here is grave danger the American people are pinning their hopes for security on new weapons which haven't even been proved to be reliable.

He added such over-optimism can lead to pessimism and despair.

Lovett spoke after President Truman had called on the Legion to support a program of GI benefits for the veterans of the Korean war.

Washington (AP)—Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) told the House yesterday the United States does not have atomic tactical weapons or guided missiles that are now ready for use.

"We are months away from having them and in some cases years," he said.

Nurse Sought In Kidnaping

Michigan City, Ind. (AP)—Police asked the FBI yesterday to locate a practical nurse who disappeared Saturday night shortly after a newborn baby was stolen from St. Anthony hospital.

The nurse was fired by a Michigan City doctor Saturday night but he refused to say why. He reported the nurse told him she wanted off early to take a trip. She left his office, about a mile from the hospital, at 5:15 p. m.

Police said the nurse's daughter found a note saying she had gone to Milwaukee. The daughter said she didn't know her mother was planning a trip.

The baby, six-day-old Lawrence James Lyons, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons.

Joseph Stout Dies While Picking Greens

Thornhurst—Joseph Stout, 75, died of a heart attack about 1 p. m. yesterday while picking greens in the woods near his cabin here.

With him at the time was his son, Russell, 10 N. Third St., Stroudsburg, who had driven up to pay a visit.

Brodheadville State police said the two were in the woods about a mile west of Locust Ridge, a quarter mile from the cabin.

Mr. Stout told his son he felt "a little short of wind," and wanted to sit down. He did, and a moment later, his son told police, fell over dead.

Russell Stout called for assistance and escorted a party back to the scene. Dr. J. W. Knedler, Moscow, pronounced Mr. Stout dead, adding he had been treating the elderly man for the heart ailment for the past 15 or 20 years.

NEW, MIRACLE ELECTRONIC EAR HIDES DEAFNESS

CHICAGO, (Special)—An amazing new electronic ear which hides deafness and transmits even whispers with startling clarity, has been revealed by a noted Chicago electronic scientist.

He disclosed that this miraculous new discovery has rendered old-style hearing aids obsolete almost overnight, and brings new hope to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing.

He reported that this electronic ear enables the deaf to hear without any button showing in the ear and without dangling battery wires.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new miracle electronic ear which hides deafness, full details are described in a fascinating booklet, "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear."

It will be sent free in a plain wrapper to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Director, 1450 West 19th Street, 815A Belmont Building, Chicago 8, Ill. A penny postcard will do.—Adv.

C. Of C. Board Votes Changes In By-Laws

Directors of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce yesterday approved three amendments to the chamber by-laws, all of which deal with the annual meeting of the body.

First changes the rule that the annual meeting be held in November to allow the board to set a date for the annual session.

The second changes the rule that directors be elected at the annual meeting to permit election of directors by mail ballot or the annual meeting.

Third change directs that the past presidents of the chamber automatically become members of the board.

Heretofore, the board has been confined to 40 members, half of whom were elected annually for two year terms.

Directors re-checked plans for the annual Pennsylvania week dinner meeting, combined with annual meeting of the chamber.

Attendance is expected to range well over 200 for this affair at 6:30 p. m. today in the Penn-Stroud hotel.

Pay Of County Officials To Rise Jan. 1

Legislation increasing salaries of elected county officers in all counties except Philadelphia was signed yesterday into law by Gov. John S. Fine, the Associated Press said last night.

The increases will not become effective until next January 1 when newly elected officials take office.

The down-the-line pay increases vary in each county according to its classification. In Monroe, a seventh class county, the new annual salaries follow with previous salaries in parentheses:

County commissioners, $2,000 ($1,100); sheriff, $4,000 ($3,300); district attorney, $2,500 to $3,500, depending on population.

In Monroe county the offices of prothonotary and clerk of the courts, register of wills and recorder of deeds, coroner, county treasurer are fee offices. Provisions are believed to have been made to provide for increased compensation for these offices.

The Associated Press said the boosts provided for in the legislation average about 25 per cent and add an estimated $10,000,000 a year to county salary costs throughout the State.

Pennsylvania Week Opens

By The Associated Press

The sixth annual observance of Pennsylvania week opened yesterday with the State's 10,000,000 citizens praising the Commonwealth's virtues in their home communities.

A multitude of exhibits, parades, and other programs started the six-day observance in high gear.

Underneath the surface observance was the theme of national defense. Where industry, commerce or agriculture were praised for their past performances they were also reminded that during the present period extra effort and production must be shown to meet the nation's expanding needs.

Gov. John S. Fine pinpointed this in a speech before the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

"The quick switch again to defense production of recent months must be a sharp reminder that we have to be constantly on the alert to maintain Pennsylvania industrial activity," he said.

The Governor disclosed that the Federal National Production authority has issued more "certificates of necessity" to firms in Pennsylvania than any other state in the Union.

But, he warned, "smaller firms in the State may be in jeopardy because of lack of priority for the raw materials necessary to their existence."

He said the State is "going to do everything possible to keep uninterrupted employment for Pennsylvania's workers and continued operation of the smaller industries."

Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) told the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce luncheon:

"Pennsylvania week gives Pennsylvanians each year the opportunity to review their accomplishments and pat themselves on the back for a job well done. And the job is well done. It is the heart warming thing as I travel around the country, to hear the high regard that residents of other states hold for Pennsylvania."

Mrs. Cramer Is Honored By Lodge Members

Mrs. Doris Cramer, recording secretary of the Monroe Council, No. 131 Sons and Daughters of Liberty, was honored by officers and members of the council at a baby shower.

A bathinette, the gift of the group was presented. Refreshments in a form of a potluck supper were served, and included sandwiches pinned into napkins by baby pins.

Those attending were: Emma Dailey, Elsie Couterman, Mary Kunkle, Mary McGinnis, Catherine Shaffer, Dorothy Miller, Martha Smith, Blanche Shaffer, Ruth Warnick, Elizabeth Strohl, Mary Michelfelder, Mae Frank, Alvertia Dennis, Marion Teleski, Flossie Snyder, Ruth Ruster, Flora Garis, Ben Burley, Kathryn Couterman and the honored guest, Mrs. Doris Cramer.

Celebrate Two Anniversaries At Dinner Party

A family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Miller, Marshalls Creek, celebrating the 30th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. Archie Tallada, of Tannersville, and the third wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Miller.

A special chicken dinner was served and music was provided by Earle Wolff, "Corn Husker". Those who attended included Mrs. Peggy Safin, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth and Max; Mrs. Audrey Starnes and children, Janet, Nancy and Larry; and Thomas Clifton, Sgt. and Mrs. Craig McKay, Earle Wolff and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Miller.

Twin Borough Stores Donate Use Of Windows For Children To Paint Halloween Scenes

Something new in the way of Halloween decorating is being launched this year by the merchants of the Stroudsburgs with the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce, Radio Station WVPO and The Daily Record.

Merchants in both boroughs have donated the use of their show windows for a full week beginning Tuesday, October 23 for the purpose of letting school children display their creative abilities along artistic lines.

Students who wish to participate in the contest should form a group of four or less members, then contact Miss Toni Spaulding at WVPO for assignment to a specific window in the area. Officials of the project set no limitation on the type of scene to be painted.

Painting will be done in water colors with originality of idea and execution counting toward the winning of a prize.

The contest is open to all students from seventh grade through the senior class in high school, with cash prizes according to grade and school.

As soon as groups are formed students should contact Toni Spaulding at WVPO; Mrs. Heller at East Stroudsburg High school or Mr. Goodwin at Stroudsburg High school.

Dr. Teague Speaks Here Tonight At Dinner Meeting Of County Organizations

Proposed decentralizing of the State health program will be discussed in Stroudsburg tonight by Dr. Russell E. Teague, Pennsylvania secretary of health.

Dr. Teague, long-time Health department official in several states and in a number of capacities, will describe the program at a dinner meeting at the Penn-Stroud hotel.

Present will be members of the county's civic, service and social clubs, health organizations, women's organizations, and the county branch of the Pennsylvania Medical association.

Introductions will be handled by Carl Secor, superintendent of East Stroudsburg schools and president of the County Tuberculosis society, and Dr. John Rumsey, president-elect of the Medical society.

Dr. Teague, a health official for 20 years, lives in Devon. Born in Kentucky, he began his public health career in a small rural county there, transferred to a larger industrial county in that state in 1933, organized another county's health department, wound up as the state's deputy secretary of health.

Commissioned in the U. S. Public Health service in 1942, he was later assigned as tuberculosis consultant in the New York regional office, was appointed Pennsylvania secretary of health this year.

The doctor is also assistant professor of public health at University of Pennsylvania Medical school and lecturer at Harvard University School of Public Health.

Gradales In Skits At Annual Party

A group of skits by the members of the Gradale Sorority formed the climax for their Halloween party held at the YMCA last night. Announced by Mrs. Albert Zateeny, the skits and characters were as follows:

"Bird in the Hand:" Mrs. Robert Metzgar, a fickle girl; Mrs. Robert Lawson and Mrs. Edward Tweedie, boy friends.

"We are Only Human," a telephone conversation by Mrs. Robert Metzgar.

"Everything is New" with Mrs. Lawson as a young lawyer; Mrs. Tweedie as secretary; and Mrs. James Farry as a client.

Mrs. Zateeny closed the program by reading an article, "Hazards of Cake Baking" and the members participated in a series of quiz games.

At the business meeting, the club accepted an invitation from the Bangor Gradales to meeting with them in Bangor on November 13. They selected Nov. 9 and 10 for their annual rummage sale in the Selvaggio building on Lower Main St.

The club also voted to send a donation to the Berlin Children's Party.

They closed with a party of their own with refreshments served from a table decorated with fall leaves and Halloween decorations. Hostesses were: Mrs. Ray Catadul, Mrs. Guy Dean, Mrs. James Farry, Miss Florence Diamond, and Mrs. Gail Fegley.

Altar Society Plan's Year's Activities

Tannersville — The first fall meeting of the Altar and Rosary society of Our Lady of Victory church was held on Thursday, October 11 in the basement auditorium of the church. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Frances Mooney, Mrs. Robert Stadden presided.

Those in attendance were Mrs. Caroline Vinyard, Mrs. Kabalac, Mrs. Stadden, Mrs. Hyland, Mrs. Malone, Mrs. Broderick, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Whalen and Mrs. Ruth Coco. Rev. John Ferguson, spiritual moderator of the group, also attended. Mrs. Whalen joined the Society and was welcomed as a new member.

Activities for the year were discussed and it was decided to make a spring card party an annual affair, to combine the summer bazaar with the block party, this to be an annual parish activity. The advisability of holding a Church supper was also considered.

The purchase of a new set of altar linens was authorized, and a substantial contribution was made toward the windows in the new Church of Our Lady of Fatima at Promised Land, Mrs. Kabalac and Mrs. Hilat was appointed the committee on altar care for the coming month. After the business session, Rev. John Ferguson gave a spiritual reading, followed by short religious instructions. At the close of the

Nurses Group Plans Project

A large number of nurses signed for the course last night. Others may join before the course gets under way.

Woman 'Dead' Four Minutes; Life Restored

Philadelphia, (AP) — Dr. Russell Minton, superintendent of the Mercy-Douglass hospital, said a woman patient, who was "dead for four minutes," yesterday is walking around her room.

Mrs. Ida Johnson, 36, was being treated in the operating room when her heart stopped. Dr. Minton reported. He said the surgeons quickly opened an incision in her chest and massaged her heart. The speedy action was credited by Dr. Minton with saving the woman's life.

"Her heart began to beat four minutes after the stoppage," explained Dr. Minton, "and she began to breathe 15 minutes after that." The superintendent said Mrs. Johnson remained unconscious for 28 hours. She gradually emerged from the stupor and 48 hours after the operation, she was mentally and physically normal.

Measure Creates Three Reserves

Washington (AP) — A bill to create three classes of military reservists and limit the President's power to call them up was passed by the House yesterday.

The measure was approved without a record vote and then sent to the Senate.

It would divide the reserves into ready, standby and retired classifications, with the latter two liable for active duty only in time of war or after Congress has declared a national emergency.

The President would have authority to call the ready reserve to active duty for a period not exceeding two years. Congress would retain the right, however, to limit the number of ready reservists the President could summon.

Court Issues Order Closing Slaughterhouse

Seranton, (AP) — Slaughter houses in East Stroudsburg, Jersey Shore and Hazleton yesterday were shut down by Federal court order pending full compliance with Office of Price Stabilization regulations.

Federal Judge John Murphy issued injunction against Myron Erlich, operator of a slaughterhouse in Hamilton Township, Stroudsburg, and a retail supply firm at 16 S. Courtland St. East Stroudsburg; and the Thompson packing plant, Jersey Shore; and Thaddeus Longczynski, Hazleton.

All three defendants were charged with failure to report the amount of cattle killed by type of animal, failure to keep records of total slaughtering and failure to report to OPS the price paid for purchased livestock.

Erlich also was charged with grading meat shipped to retailers and consumers and failure to place OPS registration numbers on carcasses and cuts of meat he sold.

Special Assistant U. S. Attorney Erwin Lodge of Philadelphia, told the court that during the last week eight additional meat slaughterers in the Middle district of the State have been placed under OPS surveillance. He said the total number of establishments now being watched by OPS for violations is 22.

He said that court proceedings are being prepared against a number of persons but did not name them specifically.

2,766 Hunters Buy Licenses For Antlerless Deer Season

Deer are going to have a rough time of it when hunting season starts in Monroe county.

To date, 2,766 county residents have plunked down $1.10 each for the privilege of hanging away at a doe.

This is in addition to the $3.15 for a regular hunting license, which must be bought first.

County Treasurer P. A. Rockefeller said yesterday about 400 of the special doe licenses are left. After they're gone, no more can be issued.

Sales of the doe licenses have gone on since October 2. The treasurer's office has sold about 1,400 regular licenses, but this does not reflect the number of hunters in the area; regular licenses may be bought throughout the county. Doe licenses are sold only at the court house.

No Reports Of Deer Kills Received From Local Archers

Local bow hunters who started out yesterday after a fast buck ended up doing the same old slow burn last night at sundown.

Not that there was a total absence of deer—the antlered bucks (two points or more to one antler) were the only scarce ones. Hunters at Wood Bound in South Sterling reported quite a few does running around but only one buck. One of the bowmen took a shot at the buck, on the move, and missed. The buck glided up and the arrow whizzed under his midsection.

Stroudsburg archers took to the woods during the day and early at night—but the net result was the same—no deer to be had on Monday.

Bow hunters still have eleven days to prove the merit of their weapon—the first annual special archery season closes October 27. No hunting is permitted on Sundays.

$400 In Fines Assessed For Killing Deer

A steak dinner cost four Monroe county residents $100 each yesterday. The steaks were venison, carved from a deer shot in closed season.

The high cost of meat came when Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser, East Stroudsburg, assessed fines of $100 and costs against James Smith, Cresco, for possessing parts of a deer in closed season, and against Donald Hauser, 21, East Stroudsburg, for shooting deer in closed season.

Justice Bonser said two 17-year-old East Stroudsburg youths also admitted shooting out of season, and will pay $100 fines to Game Warden John H. Doebeling.

The deer was shot Sunday above Shawnee, according to Justice Bonser. Deputy Game Warden Elwood Walter yesterday traced the illegal venison and made the four arrests.

"That's dear meat," Justice Bonser said after assessing the fines.

Distaff Draft

Just how loud a howl of protest will arise from the people of our land should Washington decide to extend the draft of service personnel to the distaff side is something occupying the attention of the high command in the Pentagon right now.

The situation, they say, is acute. Right now there are some 30,000 women sought for the armed forces, but by next July a goal of 112,000 for all branches has been set and this is what is causing the worried looks on the faces of those charged with filling the posts.

Starting on Armistice Day next month there will be an intensive recruiting drive inaugurated, but if this search for volunteers is not successful, a request for Congressional action on drafting women will have to be the next step.

That it would be an unpopular step, especially in a presidential election year, seems to be a foregone conclusion. Yet women, who in the first half of this 20th century have entered vigorously into every phase of activity formerly monopolized by men, will have to admit that the burden of defense must be shared by everyone and if manpower is insufficient to fill the ranks there can be but one alternative.

So, you of the gentler sex, it might be well for you to plan your future to include a period of wearing the uniforms of the Army, Navy or Air Force, to say nothing of the Marines and the Coast Guard. The new ones are very becoming, too. Travel is broadening, they say; from a mental or spiritual point of view, of course. And you meet such interesting people!

Tell the Rest

For an agency as much on the spot as the Internal Revenue Bureau, its officials can be amazingly succinct.

Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, No. 1 fact finder in the Internal Revenue scandal, says a $675,000 unpaid income-tax assessment in Kansas City has been allowed to "gather dust."

He says $170,000 of this sum no longer is collectible because the statute of limitations has run.

A "spokesman" for the bureau says he is "permitted" to say this, and no more:

"The money in that case is not in jeopardy. The government is fully protected for all the years concerned."

How? Why hasn't the assessment been paid? What effort was made to collect? How come an ex-collector for the bureau now is the delinquent taxpayer's lawyer in this case?

Why doesn't the Internal Revenue Bureau tell more?

Sky's The Limit

Astronomers have mapped the sky visible from the United States to a distance of 2,100,000,000,000,000,000 miles. Spelled out, this is two sextillion, 100 quintillion—an outlandish sum, but maybe we'd better get used to such figures if Government spending continues to increase at its present rate.

Good Place for Them

Some Russian scientist claims the Soviet experts now think they will be able to build a space ship capable of reaching the moon in the next 10 or 15 years.

He also claims they have found a way to build a new planet somewhere between here and the moon.

Well, we wish them godspeed. And may the whole Kremlin gang take the first space-ship ride, and get hung up on the new planet. We don't need them on this one.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

William Blake, of Reconcovert, West Virginia, writes about a New York kid who was taken by his parents for a year's stay in a tiny backwoods community. When he reappeared in his old haunts, the other kids on the block taunted him for being a "dumb hayseed." The boy snorted. "Did any of you fellows ever ride on a fire truck going to a real fire? Or ride with the chief of police in his official car? Or look up for an airplane and know the pilot was looking for you? Well, I have!" The other kids were stumped completely—and promptly elected him captain of the gang.

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — Piper Laurie, 19-year-old film beauty born Ruzetta Jacobs, says her marquee name was the suggestion of a family friend. It has been given some startling twists.

The commanding officer of an Army base near Denver introduced to the DLS: "Tony Martin and Miss Piper Cub!" At a Baltimore ice-cream dealers' convention, the master of ceremonies presented her as "Peter Lorre."

Similar things happened in Chicago when Piper was on a tour. A young woman there was assigned to be her chaperon. "The chaperon's boy friend got word from the hotel telephone operator that his sweetie was spending her time with Mr. Peter Lorre."

Mixup busted up the romance for a time but—happy P. S.—they're married now.

From Star Dust to Black Gold: Hoagy Carmichael has bought 240 oil acres near Converse, La., and one well is now producing. Oddly, the composer-actor's associate in the venture helped make "Star Dust" pay off, too. Hoagy wrote it while visiting the Indiana University campus in '27. A friend, Harry Hostetter, learned a one-finger piano version and remembered it until Hoagy got the melody on paper a few days later in Indianapolis. Hostetter now is in charge of drilling operation for Carmichael.

"I shudder to think of the melody ideas I've forgotten," Hoagy remarked. Claims he was composing when I found him sitting quietly with his feet up on his dressing room couch.

People's Ages are all mixed up on the "Bells on Their Toes" set. Robert Arthur, who's 26 and looks no more than 21, is playing a 17-year-old. Debra Paget, 18, is pretending to be 16. Joan Crain who is 25 and has three children, portrays an unmarried 20-year-old. Barbara Bates, 23, is represented as 18. Just to confuse matters more, they all age about 20 years in this sequel to "Cheaper By The Dozen."

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

The Right of Revolution

Corliss Lamont once made the point: "Can a Democratic government logically permit totalitarian parties to advocate the violent overthrow of the State? I am convinced that the answer is 'yes' and that the right to advocate revolution is a basic constitutional liberty in a Democracy."

If the right to advocate change is inherent in freedom, so is the right to oppose change. This truth, Communists and civil libertarians often chose to disregard. Yet, freedom is not a one-way street upon which only those who are in dissent may walk.

This Corliss Lamont acknowledges. He wrote:

"No doubt practically everyone here today would agree with me that there exists in the United States the necessary political machinery for peaceful and democratic change in either a conservative or a radical direction."

I think we can go further than that. For instance, there are those who are content with the American system of life. They have rights, too. I think that just as any man has the liberty to advocate vast and fundamental changes, so any American has the liberty to prevent such changes from coming into being. Just as anyone may criticize our form of government, and our economic system, and our social institutions, so any American has the liberty to fight the advocacy of such changes and to prevent them from being advocated at his expense, namely, by the use of taxpayers' money without the consent of the majority of the taxpayers. Those who object to school auditoriums being used to advocate the destruction of the system which erected the schools, have as many rights as those who insist that schools must be amateur institutions in which the fundamentals of our civilization may not be taught because they emanate from religion.

This comes down to the question of our schools and colleges. In the public schools, the public high schools and the public colleges, the ownership is vested in the people. Such institutions exist, on the moneys of the taxpayers, who have the right to determine the nature and purpose and service of these institutions by a majority vote in a legislative body. The teachers, professors and administrators are employees whose nature of service, responsibilities, obligations and rights are determined by laws passed by legislatures and regulations issued by the designated officials. That is the essential contractual relationship.

Anyone has the option of accepting employment on the basis of the law, and regulations or not accepting employment. If the legislature demands a loyalty oath, those who reject the loyalty oath have the privilege of resigning. It would seem by the logic of the situation that they have no other alternative.

In privately-owned schools and colleges, other factors enter into the picture except in such institutions as accept tax exemptions. If the legislature makes it a condition of tax exemption that those who teach take an oath of loyalty, it would seem that there are these alternatives: either to agree to the loyalty oath or to give up the tax exemption. Institutions which refuse to accept tax exemptions cannot be involved in the conditions which accompany such exemptions.

The fallacy of those who advocate revolution is that they refuse to respect the rights of those who oppose revolution. And

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington — Few Americans will argue in these days of wholesale thievery, influence peddling and senseless dying on Korean battlefields that the next president of the United States must be a man of great competence.

The nation's security rests on the selection of an intelligent man with a sense of justice, deep faith and possessing the skill to redirect the destiny of a country in peril as the result of incompetent administrators.

We had a president with these qualities at one time, and the occasion for remembering him today is the publication of the first volume of his memoirs. He is Herbert Hoover, who belongs to the age of great builders. His account of almost a half century of personal American history is being placed on the bookstands by the McMillan Company today. As an adjunct to the political oratory now filling the air it is indispensable.

The memoirs might well be, also, the bible of an evangelical political renaissance, wherein the virtues of the American way of life are reaffirmed. At least for the young in politics here is a guiding word from an American whose conduct in public life is free of the taint of political expediency, arrogance, and ignorance.

For Mr. Hoover the political wars have ended. But his name is cast on the events of this day. His life is a storehouse of history that is knitted into present events with the shiny thread of greatness. If we cannot find a political leader in his image today, we can at least reflect on the accomplishments of this American who accepted his destiny with integrity, wit and devotion to principle.

Mr. Hoover was orphaned in childhood. He rose to become a top flight mining engineer whose services were demanded by governments around the globe. He served as relief administrator in World War I, rescuing Belgian people from disaster while taking the measure of German military leaders and allied statesmen. Mr. Hoover was later to handle relief operations for all Europe and to serve as food administrator for the U. S. He knew and dealt with world leaders — Wilson, Clemenceau, Churchill, Theodore Roosevelt, Lloyd George and Marshall Foch—all before his 50th birthday. His term as President of the United States was to come later, and will be the subject of another volume of his memoirs.

In speaking of those days, Mr. Hoover says:

"As I go through these old papers one thing stands out with great vividness. Our major job was economic reconstruction, a part of which was food supply to their people as a whole. But parallel to it ran an operation quite minor in volume, but far greater in sentiment—our free feeding of the millions of undernourished children. And that was American. We ran it. European governments had nothing to do with it. This special work constituted but a small part of our effort, but comprises also a wholly undue proportion of the papers; No man can read them without knowing that these Americans were vicariously caring for their children at home. The papers still breathe the awakening of the kids from lethargy to chatter."

And it might be added that Mr. Hoover conducted his European relief programs with a determination that those in need would benefit. He hired an independent firm of accountants to check the spending and report to him where the American dollars were going.

At the close of World War I, Mr. Hoover observed the actions of our peace delegations. He then wrote that "our form of representative government gives neither opportunity to learn the skills of power politics and balan-

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

I took a little stroll along New York's Bowery the other day. The Bowery isn't what it used to be. Don't be disappointed when you come to New York and find the Bowery a fairly decent sort of street.

Of course there are still the flophouses where you can get a room—or rather a cubbyhole—for thirty-five cents. There are still a lot of bums in the doorways drinking cheap stuff or sleeping off their jag.

There are still—at least at night—mysterious looking doors and hallways, and there are oodles of saloons.

But what interested me most were the windows of the pawnshops. And what intrigued me most in those windows were the medals displayed in them.

There were all sorts of medals and decorations — the German Iron Cross; the Austrian Order of the Double Eagle; Russian, Spanish, British orders.

But there were also American Medals — medals bestowed on heroes for bravery—heroes who somehow, drifted down here to the Bowery and exchanged their bravery for cash.

I didn't like to see those medals there.

It didn't seem right to me that any American hero should be forced to hock his honor. It didn't seem right that an American hero should be forced, by whatever circumstance, to become a Bowery habitue.

And so today I felt rather disgusted when I read the story of Mrs. Leslie Coffelt, widow of the White House cop who lost his life in a gun fight with the would-be assassin of President Truman. She is in New York to receive another medal. She has two already.

This new one is the first Meritorious Medal ever issued by the National League of Masonic Clubs.

It is a nice gesture, of course, and I do hope that medal will not wind up on the Bowery.

The first medal was given to Mrs. Coffelt by the Puerto Rican Government, together with $4,816.59, contributed by the island's school children.

Medal No. 2 came from the United States Treasury Department. From President Truman, a letter of gratitude.

The only thing that counts for anything in the grocery store is MONEY, including her $125 a month pension. That came from the Police Department of the City of Washington—and stops if she ever remarries.

During the past nine years Mrs. Coffelt had to go to the hospital five times, and in August 1950 she had a major operation. Policeman Coffelt was a devout churchgoer and a Mason. Mrs. Coffelt is active in the Eastern Star.

Is she bitter? She is not. "I had 14 good years with Leslie," she said. "I don't ask more than that."

Incidentally, talking about being bitter. Edgar C. Hartman of St. Louis was being examined for jury duty in a robbery case.

"There are some facts you ought to know, I think," he said. "I have been a victim of a hold-upman myself. My father was shot by a holdupman. My grandfather was shot and killed by a holdupman."

Mr. Hartman was excused.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A "Write A Letter Week" Letter Postmaster General, U. S. A.

Dear Sir:

You have proclaimed this as National Write A Letter Week, and who am I to ignore you? It is a long time since I heard from you, which was back when you shot the mailman. I did not answer that time because I was not sure of the price of stamps from day to day. Well, how are you? I heard you were not feeling so good on account of you still think there are too many letter carriers making visits, some places even getting two deliveries a day. I guess you feel a little better, however, now that Congress is boosting the mail rates again. You will never be really happy until you get the three-cent stamp up to four cents but I urge patience. How are all the folks? I hope they are all observing Write A Letter Week. All my people are well, except when they go to the post office and find another window closed.

How is everything in Washington? Everybody is rushing around designing stamps in new colors, shapes, sizes and weights, I hear. Has any progress been made in the project for making the postage stamp bigger than the envelope, so I can just stick the envelope on the stamp instead of vice versa? Do you ever see Jim Farley? If so I bet it reminds you of the old days when a man could afford to mail a letter ever if he did not have much dough. Did you have a nice summer? I suppose you had a nice time swimming, fishing, thinking up new plans to cut the service and figuring out a system so a special delivery letter would not reach its destination so soon as today, which is about 48 hours later than the regular mail. Do you ever see Charlie Jones? I do not know who he is either but just asked in order to make the letter longer and show you I am putting everything into Write A Letter Week. Do you miss Joe Snow, Bill Rain and George Gloom? (You know who they are. They are the fellows in that old slogan "Not Snow nor Rain nor Gloom of night stays these couriers from their appointed rounds." You sunk them in all those new rules cutting deliveries, ordering the mailman to ring only once, etc.)

No fooling, it seems funny that you should be urging everybody to write a letter when you have trimmed the service so much that you have done more to discourage correspondence than any postmaster general in history. I really cannot get my heart into this letter. First of all I do not like to write letters because a poster asks me to. If I write my Aunt Matilda or Uncle Gideon it is because I like them and not because the Postmaster General wants it done. I could never start a letter to Cousin Otis saying "My dear Otis: I have not written you in years; and would not be doing it now except that I just ran across a poster."

Well, anyhow, now you have a letter from me and know how I feel and, if you have any time, how about a "Get The Mail Through The Way They Used To Week" and an "Open An Extra Stamp Window During Rush Hours Month"?

Love and kisses, ELMER.

P. S. — Don't take this too seriously, as it is only the kind of letter a man is apt to write during a Write A Letter Week. The Post Office department does a good job and I don't know what we would do without it, even if the mailman came only three days a week and a postage stamp cost more than a lamb chop.

Skeptical Viewpoint

Lives of great men all remind us We can make our lives sublime And, departing, leave behind us Footprints on the sands of time.

If the cortege ain't imposing And no floral flood appears Don't be downcast; modern custom Gives them to the racketeers.

Steering wheels on some new cars can now be turned by power from the motor, eliminating the tugging to get in and out of cramped quarters. The day is near when it will not even be necessary for a man to be in the auto to enjoy the drive.

A toll of $1.75 is proposed to drive a car over the new 118-mile New Jersey highway from the George Washington Bridge to the new bridge over the Delaware. A lot of folks are going to complain more of this crossing of the Delaware than Washington did.

President Truman has abandoned his early morning walks. This is encouraging to Republicans who hope he has lost what is known in racing circles as "early foot."

The William Robackers Are Honored On Golden Wedding

Newfoundland—Mr. and Mrs. William H. Robacker, celebrating their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday with an open house, were hosts to more than 350 of their friends from two until midnight, while still other friends called on Sunday.

Four of their five children were home for the celebration, and all of their 14 grandchildren and one great grandchild. Two granddaughters-in-law, Mrs. Nelson Carlton and Mrs. Douglas Carlton, both of Endicott, N. Y., appeared in costume—one wearing Mrs. Robacker's original wedding dress, and the other the dress which she had worn when they celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

The open house was ushered in when Mr. and Mrs. Robacker repeated their wedding vows of 50 years ago with the ceremony being read by Joseph Jacobs, principal of Greene-Dreher school, in the absence of their pastor, Rev. Harry Roof, who was away.

Prior to the ceremony, Miss Faith Signor, of Endicott, N. Y., sang "Through the Years" and "Because," and after the ceremony she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Anna Barnes Marthens, who had played the wedding march for the ceremony fifty years ago, also played the wedding march at their golden wedding. She now lives in Endicott, N. Y.

Among the witnesses who attended both the original ceremony and its repetition this weekend were Mrs. Robacker's brother, Homer Gilpin, and Mr. Robacker's brother, Edgar Robacker.

William H. Robacker and the former Blanche Gilpin were married in the Gilpin home in South Sterling on October 16, 1901, by the late Rev. David Evans.

They have five children: Mrs. Raymond Carlton, of Endicott, N. Y.; James Robacker, of Waterbury, Conn.; Mrs. H. W. Kiser and Mrs. Charles Frisbie, of Rahns, Pa.; and Mrs. Fred Phillips, of South Sterling. They were all home except James.

Mr. Robacker, who is a carpenter, also is tax collector, and both are active in all community affairs.

They received many gifts, including fifty golden roses and fifty golden chrysanthemums from their grandchildren.

Parents Go To Classes At SHS

At least 360 parents yesterday had a chance to put themselves in their children's places literally, as they attended the open house for Stroudsburg High and Junior High school, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers association.

Meeting at 8 o'clock in their child's home room, they were given a copy of his daily schedule, which they followed through seven short periods. During those seven minutes, the teachers called the roll with parents responding for their child. The teachers explained briefly the work being covered in that particular class.

At the close of the school day, the parents assembled in the auditorium where Mrs. Elton Denning, president, greeted them and introduced Superintendent Earl Groner and Principal Alfred Munson, and introduced candidates for the school board: Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler, Gerald Anderson and Dr. Claus Jordan, Herbert Crane, the fourth candidate, was not able to be present.

Another feature of the assembly was the presentation of the PTA award for the best poster stressing PTA membership. The award went to Barbara Shutt, of home room 11, with Francis Meredith announcing the decision of the judges.

The open house closed with refreshments in the school gymnasium served by Mrs. Grant Nitraser, Mrs. Stiles Baldwin, Mrs. Jere Stofflet, Mrs. George Savidge and Mrs. Stewart Swartley.

Home room mothers were in charge in each home room to make introductions, and to present copies of the PTA program for the year.

The open house for the elementary schools will be held next Monday night at both the Ramsey and Mores schools.

They hope to complete the flooring this week so that the sides can be raised. Parke Kunkle, youth activities chairman of the Kiwanis club, visited the site on Mosier's Knob on Sunday and promised to try and recruit additional volunteers to help with the roof when needed.

Men who worked this past weekend included Stanley Hartman, Stanley Smith, Pearly Hunt, Bernie Newhart, Ralph Scheerer, Harlan Bard, W. G. Miller, William Miller, Gerald Miller and Horace Westbrook.

Painting the roof and keeping the coffee and sandwiches coming were Mrs. Betty Smith, Mrs. Lucy Hartman, Mrs. Betty Scheerer, Jane Scheerer, Mrs. Sarah Bard, Mrs. Laura Bauscher, and Mrs. W. G. Miller, camp committee chairman.

A group of leaders also spent an afternoon last week, painting at the site.

This is Pennsylvania Week

And—this year—it means more than ever!

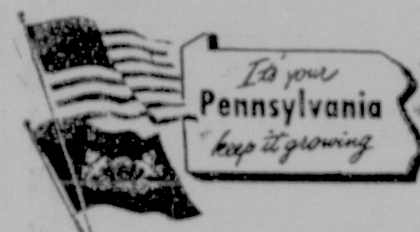

Pennsylvania Week is the time when we let people know about our state and our community. We want to attract people ... industry ... prosperity. We do it by focusing attention on what our community has to offer those who want to share in the good things Pennsylvania has.

This year, Pennsylvania Week means something more. The good life that Pennsylvania helped fashion for America is threatened. Pennsylvania has a vital role in meeting that threat.

KEYSTONE OF THE NATION ...
BULWARK OF DEFENSE!

Pennsylvania already out-produces the world in many of the things we need for defense. More billions of dollars worth of productive facilities are being built here. All this productive power must be backed by man power.

That's where you come in. Whatever job you have to do ... do it like a Pennsylvanian.

Main Street Firm Founded 23 Years Ago

All this week during Pennsylvania week the spotlight is being beamed on Pennsylvania produced products. Over 60 per cent of this nation's biggest industries are located in this State.

But in the same respect, many of the country's prosperous "smaller" industries are also located in the Commonwealth.

Many such businesses which make up this category are located in this region of the State.

One, in particular, is the East Stroudsburg Bedding Co., located at 437 Main St., Stroudsburg.

Since 1928 the firm has been manufacturing some of the finest types of mattresses and box springs. The firm also does all types of upholstery work.

Fabian Lauer, managing owner of the company, pointed out, however, that over one-half of the business is devoted to repair work and the making over of old mattresses and box springs.

A special "picking" machine is used for this work. The entire cotton content of an old mattress is utilized in this process. The unique machine re-livens and re-fluffs the cotton so it may be used again.

East Stroudsburg Bedding Co. can also convert a cotton mattress to an innerspring type. In this process new springs and covers are added.

Mr. Lauer pointed out the cost is less than one-half that of a new mattress. "The savings are terrific," he asserted.

The firm also rebuilds old in-

WE GIVE "EASY DOUGH"

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Although the "Battle of the Boroughs" has been history for almost four days, the excitement and pressure brought on by the major grid clash refuses to pass away. Maybe it's because Friday's clash was the best in the history of the inter-borough rivalry, football that is, and it also might be because the junior varsity eleven of the respective schools battled to a scoreless deadlock at Gordon Giffels field yesterday.

The pro and con discussion of this and that movement continued yesterday but the players of the two schools were showing signs of returning to earth after being up in the air for almost a week. Both varsity eleven took the day off from practice to become spectators at the junior varsity contest. The horse-play, kidding and rough tactics of kids without a care or worry in the world were once again in evidence on both squads for the first time since early last week.

Stroudsburg's gridgers, naturally still thrilled with the exciting victory, began to think of the road ahead and each of the Mountaineers is now aware of the fact that the maroon and white colors can fly atop the Lehigh Valley League this year. However, the charges of Coach Jerry Stulgaitis will have to win every one of their remaining games and someone will have to bump Palmerton from its present first place perch. The Stulgaitismen have already taken the measure of Emmaus, a team that many think will be in the thick of the battle right to the final game of the season. Stroudsburg's only circuit loss was a 13-0 setback at the hands of Palmerton.

The East Stroudsburg players, down in the dumps for the past three days, were laughing and kidding and roughing it up among themselves at yesterday's attraction at Giffels field. Although not all of the purple and white color bearers have recovered their pre-game feelings, the Cavaliers too are beginning to look to the future and the fact that they can add more victories to their most successful campaign in history. Both teams must be aware at this time that the 1951 season is far from completed.

Several fans have been wondering just how a backfield of Paul "Candy" Miller, quarterback; Martin "Ducky" Martz and Alden "Red" Fetherman, halfbacks, and Dave Shook, fullback, would perform. From this angle it appears as if it would be one of the greatest scholastic offensive units in history. Maybe those people who have been beating the drums for a uniting of the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg school districts have something at that. Most coaches would gladly settle for a backfield unit of Dick Weingartner, quarterback; Karl Merring and Don Garaventi, halfbacks, and either John "Juice" Arnt or George Litts at fullback.

Speaking of Litts brings to mind the fact that the hard playing defensive back almost became the hero of the East Stroudsburg-Stroudsburg tussle, as it was George who recovered the fumble drop in Stroudsburg territory late in the final stanza last Friday, only to have the offensive bid fail. Litts has played plenty of good ball for the Cavaliers and he will be back for more next year. The Stroudsburg forward walk came in for plenty of credit after Friday's battle—and rightfully so. The maroon and white clad linemen finally played the game of which they are capable.

Paul Lim, junior varsity quarterback at Stroudsburg High, appears to be good varsity material. Paul has that ability to think quickly and accurately that every coach admires. Paul Borstein, end on the East Stroudsburg junior varsity, also proved that he is outstanding future varsity material yesterday, when he made something like 70 percent of his team's tackles at Gordon Giffels field. Coach John DeVivo was still talking about the damage Borstein did long after the contest was completed.

Both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools play at home on Friday night, which certainly won't help either gate. Stroudsburg is planning a special "Homecoming Day" program for its alumni. Marty Baldwin, Alfred W. Munson and Stulgaitis all reportedly gave fine talks at the special "victory assembly" program at Stroudsburg High yesterday, during which time the "Little Brown Jug" was presented to Co-captain Alden "Red" Fetherman. Co-captain Frank Armitage wasn't in school to share in the honor. Wouldn't it be nice to be able to look forward to an East Stroudsburg-Stroudsburg football game on Thanksgiving Day? Will we have it next year???

West Chester Features High Scoring Pair

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College entertains West Chester State Teachers on Saturday, in the most important football game of the season played on the Normal Hill field. The tussle is expected to be played before the largest crowd of the present campaign, with the alumni returning for a special "Home Coming Day" program.

However, the Warriors, who have won two and lost one game thus far, will have their hands full if they hope to break their losing habit at the hands of the annually powerful West Chester contingent.

The Rams feature two of the highest scoring backs in the state in Don Hersh and Tom Prender, with 36 and 35 points respectively. Both are among the leading ten point producers.

However, the ace offensive back in the Keystone State is Ed Romanowski, University of Scranton fullback, who has 48 markers to his credit.

Scoring follows:
Players College G T P T
Romanowski, Scranton 4 6 12 48
Meyers, Bucknell 4 2 0 42

Griffith Story Interesting To Congress

Washington, (AP) — Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, told Congress yesterday he once violated baseball's controversial reserve clause — and thereby helped found the American League.

But, Griffith said, he favors hanging the penalty on any player who does today what he did in 1901.

The penalty now: the player would be barred from the league for five years.

Griffith expressed his view to a house judiciary subcommittee which is trying to find out whether baseball violates the anti-trust laws.

It has been particularly interesting in the reserve clause. This, in effect, binds the player to stay with the team with which he first signs.

Yesterday's hearing wandered all over the outfield, from the woes of playing in the minors to the troubles of an umpire.

But Griffith's story seemed to interest the committee the most.

Griffith was a star pitcher for the National League before he jumped to the new American League in 1901. He said he feels his move was justified, because, he said, baseball was dying for want of competition.

Support Clause
But the 82-year-old, and still vigorous, owner of the Washington Senators, supported the reserve clause wholeheartedly, in spite of the way he flouted it 50 years ago.

"We can't have players jumping from one league to another," he said. "It would destroy baseball."

Other developments yesterday:
One—The subcommittee disclosed it had in its possession a mysterious secret document purportedly written in 1946 by Larry MacPhail, then an owner of the New York Yankees.

In general, the MacPhail document is critical of the baseball set-up and argues changes in its structure.

Two—Al Widmar, a St. Louis Browns pitcher and one time hold-out, suggested that players should be given the right to set up a guild to handle salary disputes.

Three—Ernie Stewart, a onetime American league umpire, said he lost his job when caught in a cross-fire between former high commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler and the league president, Will Harridge.

Guests
The Guest Blind Bogey tournament was won by Harold Cross, with a 76 score. The remainder of the leaders were H. Cirino, H. DeFallo, R. Coles, Joe Valentine, Charlie Halliwell and L. C. Fries.

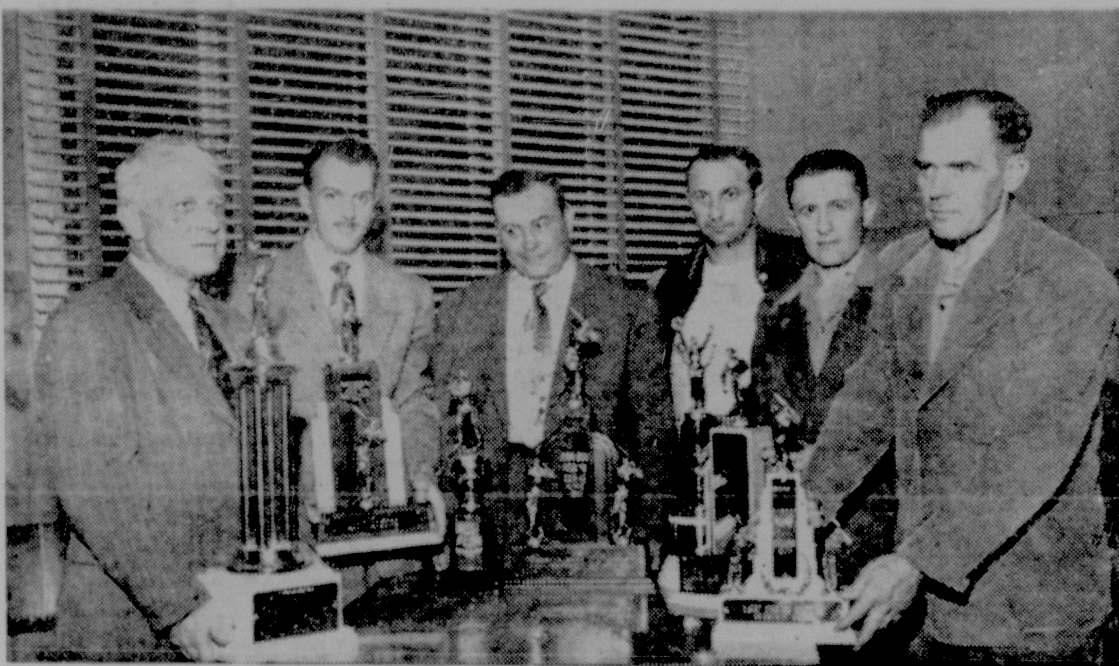

Yesterday's golf was held as part of the annual joint meeting of the Pocono and Philadelphia Turf association and the trophy was again presented by Stump and Walters Co., a seed firm. A dinner, with 90 per cent, was also held last night.

Fred Waring, president of Shawnee Inn, presented John Dimmick, greens superintendent at Shawnee, with a watch in honor of his years of service to the local resort. Waring also presented an address of welcome to the combined groups.

Harry Drennan, Buck Hill, is president of the Pocono chapter, while Anetia is secretary. Frank Nause, Conyngham, Pa., is vice president, and Ted Weisser, Clark Summit, is treasurer.

Paul Weiss, vice president of the Philadelphia association, headed his group, while Bob Pollock, secretary-treasurer, was also on hand, as was Leonard Strong, Saucon Valley Country club, Bethlehem, who serves as golf chairman of his group.

Saylorsburg—Kunkletown's entry in the Pocono Mountains league was rewarded with three trophies at the regular October meeting of the circuit here at the Diamond Inn last night. The other various standout performers also received honors at a special "Award Night" meeting.

Kunkletown received The Daily Record trophy, presented by Sport Editor Jim Riley, for the regular season championship. The regular season king also won the Crowe Trophy, for winning the post-season playoff series. Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe made the presentation of his trophy. Clarence Smith, Kunkletown pilot, was judged one of the two most popular managers in the circuit and received a trophy from Granville Shiffer for this honor. Detlef A. Hansen, Monroe county's district attorney, made the presentation of this award.

Top Hitter
John Weirich, Tobyhanna's hard hitting catcher, won the batting award on the strength of a .540 plate average. Sheriff Amzi Altomose donated and presented the trophy for this honor. Ralph "Peanuts" Moyer, Saylorsburg pitcher, was honored as the best hurler in the circuit, with a record of nine wins and only one setback. Deputy Vic Henning donated and presented the pitching trophy.

Sharing the role of most popular manager was Gilbert "Gil" Overpeck, Saylorsburg, and he received a trophy donated by John Wernett, secretary of the circuit. Harold Kresge, league president, and Marshall Bohner.

The second place team in the league, Saylorsburg, received a trophy from Baum's Sporting Goods. The presentation was made by Frank Thornton, company representative to Graydon Praetorius, team president.

Wernett was declared the league's most deserving official and received a trophy donated by the Monroe County Republican committee. Altomose made the presentation in the absence of Ben K. Williams, who was unable to attend the affair.

Kresge was in charge of the meeting. Vice President Harry Jansen, Treasurer M. N. Warner and Umpire-in-chief, Rev. Adam Bohner, Kunkletown, delivered the invocation and league attorney Elmer D. Christine served as toastmaster.

The trophy committee was headed by Clinton Getz, Lake Harmony, and included Stem and Emanuel "Babe" Miller, Tobyhanna.

Opening Postponed
Service Club league bowlers won't open their season tonight as previously scheduled, but will launch the 1951 campaign on the Elks alleys a week from tonight. The delay was brought about by the combined meeting of the service clubs at the Penn-Stroud hotel tonight.

The trophy committee was headed by Clinton Getz, Lake Harmony, and included Stem and Emanuel "Babe" Miller, Tobyhanna.

Arch Rivals Battle On Even Terms

East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High schools met on the gridiron at Gordon Giffels field once again yesterday, but this time the junior varsity eleven battled to a scoreless deadlock, although the home team presented a serious threat in the fourth and final period.

Paul Lim apparently was over for a touchdown, but the Stroudsburg back was ruled out of bounds on the East Stroudsburg one yard line. However, the Cavaliers held on the next play and the Mountaineers were penalized 15 yards to end the threat.

Intercepted Pass
East Stroudsburg began a scoring march of its own late in the last period, only to have Lim intercept a pass and end the threat, seconds before the final whistle was sounded.

Both teams fought it out on even terms throughout the first half and through the third quarter, but both threatened during the final period, with the Mountaineers failing by one yard of win-the contest.

Yesterday's encounter was the first of the season for the Cavaliers, while Stroudsburg has three encounters under its belt.

Yankees Purchase Schaeffer's Contract From Kansas City

New York, (AP)—The New York Yankees yesterday purchased the contracts of a first baseman and two pitchers from their farm club affiliates in Kansas City and Beaumont, Tex.

They are Don Bollweg, a left-handed hitter and thrower who batted .303 for Kansas City during the season, and Pitchers Harry Schaeffer and Tom Gorman, both with Beaumont this year.

Kansas City
Schaeffer's contract was purchased from Kansas City, since he had been on option from that club to Beaumont where he won 19 and lost nine games. A southpaw, Schaeffer was a workhorse of the Texas league, pitching 261 innings and striking out 122 batters. His home is Shillington, Pa.

Harry pitched with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1946 and 1947 and is also a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Bollweg, from Wheaton, Ill., played in 122 games, had 129 hits, belted 20 home runs, scored 109 runs and batted in 69 runs.

Gorman, in the Yankee farm system since 1946, is from Valley Stream, N. Y.

Young People Share Program

Master Gary Peckman and a group of his buddies gathered at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian church on Sunday night to share the program. Those who accompanied him were Paul Dellaria, Robert Dellaria, Billy Dimmick, Leonard Capuano, Bernard Capuano, Earland Clark and Ronny

Slutter. The girls in attendance were Dody Dellaria, Pat Fisher, Mary Sue Harvey, Frances Naugle and Nancy Walters. After the meeting was over, two of the boys delivered a bouquet of flowers to Sue Dimmick, who was confined to the General hospital. Master Peckman and two of his friends are arranging for an attractive program for next Sunday night. The topic will be "Let's Look At The Record."
